

Adobe CLP Program License Price List for Penn Institutional Customers

Only departments of the University of Pennsylvania and departments of the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania are eligible to participate in the Adobe CLP Licensing Program.

Program Components

Single Licenses: Purchasing a license permits you to run one copy of the version licensed on one computer. Additional licenses can be purchased for other systems in your department. CLP CD media will be necessary for the initial installation of the new single license. (Media from boxed-set Adobe products will not work with volume license keys).

Upgrade Plan License: When purchasing a new Single License, you have the option to purchase the Upgrade Plan at the same time. This option allows you to upgrade to any future version of that product released before May 1, 2010.

Concurrent License: Concurrent use licenses permit software installed in conjunction with a license manager or application server and used by multiple computers simultaneously.

Upgrade Plan Concurrent License: When purchasing a new Concurrent License, you have the option to purchase the Upgrade Plan at the same time. This option allows you to upgrade to any future version of that product released before May 1, 2010.

Uplift: Converts a Single License into a Concurrent License. Can only be purchased to convert Single Licenses for the most current version of a product.

License Upgrade: Updates a Single License product to the current version. License Upgrades will only update the most recent version. Pricing does not include an academic discount. Not available for all licenses.

Per Processor Licenses: Permits you to run any number of licenses on one CPU (1pp license) or multiple CPUs (2pp, 4pp, etc) at the same time.

Electronic Software Delivery (ESD): Some products can be downloaded from Adobe instead of being installed from CD/DVD. After you log into your Adobe account, the ESD option will be active for products that can be distributed via download.

Media: CD/DVD media is purchased separately from the license, and only one copy is needed for multiple installations. The license media may be used only with a CLP license key.

Documentation: Documentation is purchased separately from the license.

This price list supersedes all previous versions of this document.
